SENATE CONFUSED OVER RECIPROCITY

Number of Incidents Yesterday Showed Tangled Situation In Congress.

STEP FORWARD FOR THE BILL

Passed Through All Stages of Being Reported to Senate Before Members Knew What Was Going On—Confusion.

Washington, June 27.—The tension that exists in the Senate over the reciprocity measure was emphasized by incidents that occurred in the confused proceedings today. The session began with an unsuccessful attempt by Chairman Penrose, of the Finance Committee, to secure an agreement for a vote on reciprocity July 24th, on the wool bill July 26th, and free list bill July 28th. Friends of reciprocity will insist upon coupling all three measures in any agreement to vote.

After refusing to permit such an arrangement, the opponents of the reciprocity bill allowed that measure to advance one important parliamentary step before they realized what had happened. For a quarter of an hour the Senate was in executive session. At its conclusion no one being ready to speak on the measure and following the parliamentary custom of that body, Vice President Sherman announced that the bill would be reported from the Committee of the Whole to the Senate.

The bill actually passed through all the stages of being reported to the Senate before members realized what was going on. While under consideration in the Committee of the Whole the measure could be amended, but could not be voted upon. In the Senate it could be brought to a final vote at any time. Senators Nelson, Bristow, Crapp and Bailey joind in the protest that arose when it was found what had happened to the bill.

At first Senator Penrose objected to having the measure reinstated in the committee of the whole. He said the Senate had shown no disposition to hurry in its consideration of the bill, and had repected his proposal for a definite time for a vote on the measure. He therefore thought no backward step should be taken.

Friends of the bill on the Democratic side, however, led by Senators Stone and Bacon, said the Senate had evidently been off its guard, and had permitted the bill to be advanced unintentionally.

Senator Penrose finally consented to having it restored to its former status.

The feeling that developed over this incident was not so marked, however, as that which greeted Senator Penrose's attempt to fix a time for the vote on the bills.

Insurgents objected to any definite date for the reciprocity vote; and the Finance Committee was extricated from the embarrassing position of having the other votes determined by an objection from Senator Smoot. Several Democrats and insurgents would have welcomed the fixing of the other two dates so that the tariff bills could be forced up to President Taft ahead of the reciprocity bill and the latter held back as a means of forcing his signature to the others.

The Penrose request will be renewed from time to time and whenever conditions seem favorable. Ultimately, the friends of reciprocity may consent to change the order, allowing the vote on the tariff bills to come first, but they will not do so at present not in taking this position will they consent for one to go through without the others. In this attitude they have the endorsement of the President, who has advised them in individual conferences that while he does not shrink from consideration of tariff measures at this time he thinks that reciprocity should come first in the natural order. His position as expressed to Senators who have talked to him, is that the present session should be confined as strictly as possible to reciprocity, that being the subject which it was called to consider.

Senator Borah attacked the reciprocity bill in a speech this afternoon, declaring that the Canadian treaty of 1854 had not been of benefit to the country; and that the Canadians were always seeking an agreement that would admit their natural products to the United States, while it protected their manufacturing interests.

Senator Martine, of New Jersey, who has qualified as a farmer in the Senate, had an interesting passage at arms with Senator Borah. He questioned the latter's statements as to the benefits of protection to the farmer.

"I've been looking up the Senator from New Jersey since he announced that he was a farmer," retorted Mr. Borah, "and I find that 18 or 20 years ago he had a farm of 120 acres in New Jersey; that he farmed it for a while, played politics a little, and that finally a great manufacturing town growing up to it, he cut it into building lots, built houses on it, and is now many times a landlord, and has come to the United States Senate."

Senator Martine answered with heat and declared he had been an active farmer up to three yaers ago.

The dialogue was terminated by Senator Gallinger's observation that Senator Martine must have been elected by a "straw vote."

The Senate was compelled to adjourn because of the storm that raged about the capitol late in the afternoon, which made further proceedings impossible.

ATTACKS CARNEGIE FOUNDATION

Its Aims and Tendencies Toward Schools and Colleges—At Convention of Catholic Educational Association.

Chicago, June 27.A scathing attack on the aims and tendencies of the Carnegie Foundation was made today at the opening session of the convention of the National Catholic Educational Association by Rev. Timothy Brennahan, president of Loyola University, of Baltimore.

"A fund of $15,000,000 in bonds of the United States Steel Corporation providing retaining allowances for certain excepted institutions will enlist the interest of influential personages in the stability of the Pittsburg millionaire's industrial bairn," said Father Brennahan.

"These institutions, we may reasonably suppose, would scarcely look impartially on legislative inquiries or enactments that would imperil the value of their securities. The result of investing the United States Steel Corporation bonds in the foundation could scarcely have escaped the acumen of so astute a business man.

"The Carnegie Foundation affords a motion to university and college presidents for discharging professors when they have reached the dead line. Personal or financial reasons may make the professors' retirement desirable to the university president and make way for promotion of some younger men.

"If the evils of despotism are in store for us if we permit monopoly of education by the government (which after all with us can be called to account) what may we expect from a private, permanent, self-perpetuation corporation, backed by millions of dollars and irresponsible to the public, whose one aim is to bring into disrepute schools under definite religious control, to bond together non-sectarian schools, selected mostly for their actual or prospective strength through them to get control of the higher education of the country."

KING AND QUEEN ATTEND.

Second Command Performance in Connection With Coronation.

London, June 27.—The King and Queen and royal and distinguished guests attended the second command performance in connection with the coronation festivities at His Majesty's Theatre today.

For the occasion Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree had arranged a superb programme. He had insisted that the play was the thing. Owen Seaman, editor of "Punch," boldly paraphrasing Shakespeare in the prologue composed for tonight's performance, emphasized the fact by writing:

"The play's the thing
"Wherein to snatch a conquest of the King."

So, for the distinguished audience was treated to scenes from "The Merry Wives of Windsor," "David Garrick," "Julius Caesar," "The Critic," and "Ben Jonson's Masque," "The Vision of Delight," in which appeared more than 300 actors and actresses, standing at the top of their respective branches in the profession, with minor actors and actresses filling supernumerary roles, the whole number engaged reaching nearly 1,000.

When their majesties appeared they were loudly cheered by a great crowd that gathered about the theatre. The audience included all the royal and other special representatives to the coronation, ambassadors, colonial premiers and members of the cabinet.

GRANTED TO C. C. & O. ROAD

Permission to Make Coal Rates From Certain Points.

Washington, June 27.—Permission was granted by the Inter-State Commerce Commission today to the Carolina, Clinchfield & Ohio Railway and connecting carriers to make rates on coal of which, in some instances, are less for longer than for shorter distances over the same lines and in the same direction. The order affects coal shipments from mines at Dante, Clinchfield and Hurricane, Virginia, to points in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Florida.

By the terms of the order differentials favorable to the Virginia mines are established on coal shipped to points throughout the southeastern territory, thus enabling them to compete with the Coal Creek mines in Tennessee.

GEORGIA MOB KILLS TWO.

Negroes Accused of Attacking White Woman at Monroe, Ga.

Monroe, Ga., June .7.—A mob today killed Tom Allen, a negro, accused of attacking a white woman, and then stormed the jail and lynched Joe Watts, another negro, who was held on suspicion. Allen was taken from a train near Social Circle. He was tied to a telegraph post and shot to death. Allen had been held in Atlanta for safe keeping pending trial. He was returning to Monroe under guard of deputy sheriffs when killed.

Atlanta, Ga., June 27.—Governor Joseph M. Brown issued a statement this afternoon repudiating all blame for the Allen lynching. He declared he did not have power to send a militia guard without a request from the county authorities which was not extended to him.

MORMONS TESTIFY AT SUGAR INQUIRY

CHURCH AND THE SUGAR TRUST

Declared They Sought Havemeyer's Aid as a Benefactor—Mormon Leader Attracted Wide Attention—Details.

Washington, June 27.—The Mormon Church is in the sugar business for the benefit of its people; it sought Henry O. Havemeyer's help to extend its sugar enterprises, not because he was Havemeyer, but because his money would be for the benefit of the Mormon people; it regarded Havemeyer not as an "industrial pirate" but rather as a "benefactor" and in combining with him in the beet sugar business the heads of the Mormon Church believe that no law of the United States was violated. This, in substance, was the declaration to the House "Sugar Trust" Investigating Committee today of Joseph F. Smith, president of the Mormon Church, and president of the Utah-idaho Sugar Company. He was supported in his testimony by Bishop Charles Nibley, business manager of the Mormon Church, who also testified. The Morman leaders attracted wide attention and were followed on the witness stand by W. G. Gilmore, managing partner of Arbuckle brothers, competitors of the American Sugar Refining Company, who will be examined tomorrow.

"Have you any official connection with the Utah-Idaho Sugar Refining Company?" asked Chairman Hardwick.

"I am president of the company," Mr. Smith replied.

"Do you own any stock in a representative capacity?"

"Yes, I hold 49,815 shares for the church. The title is held in the name of Joseph F. Smith, trustee."

Of the stock of the Amalgamated Sugar Company, of Ogden, Mr. Smith said he owned about 70 shares individually. The church held none. The witness added that neither he nor the church held stock in the Lewiston Sugar Company.

President Smith said the church became interested in the Utah Sugar Company when many people who subscribed failed to pay for their stock and the company, under bond to complete a beet sugar factory, was unable to do it. The church appealed to by the stockholders to assist which it did to the extent of $50,000.

"Does the Utah-Idaho Company pay dividends?"

"Yes, seven per cent.

"How is that dividend used by the church?"

"In promoting its religious interests."

"Did the church ever go into partnership with Henry O. Havemeyer?"

"The church never did, but the stockholders did. We were striving to build up the beet sugar business in Utah under very great difficulties. We were anxious to obtain capital. We were given to understand that Mr. Havemeyer had offered to take an interest in our enterprise and I as one of the stockholders, was very glad to hear of his offer, which eventually was accepted. I was willing to sell my portion of the stock to help make up the half interest to the Havemeyer."

"Before the Utah Company combined with Havemeyer," Mr. Hardwick asked, "was it not in competition with the American Sugar Refining Company?"

"Not in Utah."

"How was the deal with Havemeyer approved?"

"The matter was presented to the board of directors and they agreed to sell half the stock."

"At that time did the church take legal advice as to whether the combination with Mr. Havemeyer was lawful or unlawful?"

"The church didn't, but the company consulted its attorneys, I think as to the legality of the deal. I am not sure of that, but reasonably certain that it was done. The church itself has nothing to do with the business investments or holdings. Its business holdings are looked after by me as trustee and I do the best I can. The church itself takes no part."

"It has appeared to this committee that Mr. Havemeyer entered upon a conquest of the sugar industry of the United States," said Mr. Madison. "He consolidated plants in New York and Philadelphia, made war on Spreckles on the west coast and divided with him and then moved on the beet sugar in California, Colorado, Michigan and Utah.

"In the light of all those facts, did it occur to you that Mr. Havemeyer was entering upon a consolidation of the sugar business of the country and that you were one of the pawns in the game?"

"No, it never occurred to me," President Smith answered.

"I did not think of it at all. All I thought of was the welfare of our people."

Mr. Smith said he wanted beet sugar protected until it was not necessary to protect it. He could not prophecy when that time would come.

WASHINGTON IS STORM STRUCK

High Winds and Hail Caused Considerable Damage at the Capital Yesterday—Caught Taft on Golf Links—Features.

Washington, June 27.—A deluge of rain and hail, accompanied by thunder and lightning and a wind that attained a velocity of 60 miles an hour, forced an adjournment of the Senate, caught President Taft in the open on the Chevy Chase Golf Links, caused the destruction of a building at the Soldiers' Home and played havoc with shade trees. The storm lasted only 20 minutes and was the climax of a day of intense heat, the theremometer on the level registering 102 degres.

While the storm was at its height lightning struck one of the big dairy stables at the Soldiers' Home and within a few minutes the structure with its contents was in ashes. The loss is $50,000. Eighty cows were driven from the burning building as were 70 others in an adjoining stable, which for a time was imperilled.

President Taft had with him on the Chevy Chase Golf Links, General Clarence Edwards and Major A. W. Butt, when the storm broke. Because of the suddenness of the down pour, the three were drenched. Led by the President they fled to the nearest shelter, the caddy house, where they remained until the down pour ceased and then resumed their game over a soggy course.

At the capitol the beating of the hail and rain on the glass roof of the Senate chamber caused such a din that Senator Borah, who was speaking, could not make himself heard and the Senate was obliged to adjourn.

Parks and streets throughout the city were littered with prostrate trees and stripped branches. A century old elm in the White House grounds were uprooted.

3-YEAR-OLD SCARES ROBBER.

Talks in Sleep, But Does Not Save Father's Clothes.

Richmond, Va., June 26.—Pretty 3-year-old Doris Toon, daughter of O. S. Toon, of Woodland Heights, awakening at an early hour this morning, frightened from her father's home a burglar who carried away with him two suits of Toon's clothes and $12 in money.

Hearing the child speaking, Toon went to her room a few minutes later, but found her asleep. There was no one in the room, and he supposed that she had been talking in her sleep and went back to bed. The theft, therefore, was not discovered until this morning. A half-consumed repast was found on the dining room table, which the burglar had prepared and partly eaten. He also took such eatables with him as he could conveniently carry.

When Toon reported the theft to the police he apologized for his delay in the matter.

"But it was this way," he said. "That burglar got away with about all the clothes I had in the house, and for awhile it looked as though I should have to come to the police station clad in a barrel."

HUSBAND ENOUGH FOR JUDGE.

Hit Wife on Head With Hammer Five Times a Week.

Pittsburg, June 26.—Mrs. Mary Centilo, a pretty woman of 28, seeking a divorce from her husband, Joseph Centilo, caused a sensation in Common Pleas Court No. 1 today by declaring that her husband had struck her on the head with a hammer every day for four years and at times tried to hammer shoenails into her body.

Centilo, who is a shoemaker, admitted that he had struck his wife, but not every day. "I hit her with the hammer only five times a week," he remarked.

"Oh, you brute," fairly yelled Judge Marshall Brown at the husband.

When Attorney Ammon started to call another witness, Judge Brown cried: "Don't do it; that's enough."

Norfolk, Va., June 27.—Cobb's Knitting Mills in East Suffolk, were destroyed by fire late today. Loss $40,000 with partial insurance.

BEACHY'S DARING WINS HIM FAME

Aviator Thrills Thousands in Wonderful Flight Over Niagara Falls.

LOST IN MIST AND SPRAY

Swooped Down the Gorge Almost to the Whirlpool—Most Exciting Trip of Aviator's Career. To Repeat Flight.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 27.—With the whir of his bi-plane motor drowned in the roar of the cataract and man and machine momentarily obscured in spray and mist, Lincoln Beachy, the Californian aviator today, after circling above the falls, swooped beneath the arches of the upper steel bridge and down the gorge almost to the whirlpool. Rising again between the precipitous sides of the lower river, Beachey soared to the Canadian side, where he made a successful landing.

It was the first time that a birdman had cut through the air currents and mist clouds and leaping foam caused by Niagara's falls and rapids that have lured so many adventurers to their death.

Throngs on the American and Canadian shores gazed with fascination at the aviator as he rose to a height of about 2,000 feet, twice circled above the cataract, and then made the long swoop toward the narrow passage under the bridge. His biplane came racing over the Horseshoe fall so low that he was lost to view for an instant and then winged close to the water. It seemed almost to skim the water as he made the bridge passage.

Beachy continued on down the gorge almost to the whirlpool rapids, clearing the water by not more than 30 feet, before soaring aloft again.

"It was the most exciting trip of my life," said Beachy.

To add to the difficulties of Beachy's flight, a light rain began to fall as he took his seat in the biplane shortly before 6 o'clock. The start was made from a baseball diamond on the American side and he got away nicely. He mounted upwards, moving always in the direction of the cataract and when he crossed the American fall he was about 2,000 feet in the air. In a great sweeping circle he swung toward the north and over the Horseshoe falls.

Down the river he flew, almost to the lower steep arch bridge, two miles below the falls, then coursed to the west and south again, always dropping as he circled. On his second circle he went well to the southwest before beginning his low flight towards the upper steel arch bridge under which he was to pass. Swinging again to the north and traveling about 50 miles an hour, he came on probably not more than 200 feet over the Horseshoe and swishing through its spray.

Once over the cataract he towered his plane and rushing with the wind at a speed estimated at 60 miles an hour, he dipped quickly under the arch. As he did so he caught some of the wash of the outlet of the power tunnel which shoots out from the rocky side of the precipice at that point. At no time from his final dip until the time he was clear of the structure was the biplane more than 30 feet above the spume.

The space through which he flew is 158 feet in heighth and barely 100 feet from side to side. The distance from the brink of the falls to the bridge in which he made the dip is about 400 yards. Beachy will repeat the flight tomorrow. Today's crowd was estimated at 150,000 people.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.

Will Affect Main Line Trains on the Coast Line.

Rocky Mount, N. C., June 27.—Another change of schedule with the Atlantic Coast Line affecting its passenger trains in this section that will be noted with interest has just been "doped out" in the offices of the Superintendent of Transportation, and will be published from the general offices of the company at Wilmington probably today or at an early date. The change will become effective on next Sunday, July 2nd, at noon and the passenger trains affected are the through train from Florida to New York, No. 86, and known as the Palmetto Limited, will arrive at this city about 25 minutes later, or at 1:35. This change is perfected by reason of the fact that a connection will be made at Augusta, Ga., with the Georgia Railroad, whereby there may be handled over the Atlantic Coast Line and attached to this train a through sleeper from New York to Atlanta, a service that the Atlantic Coast Line has not been able to offer heretofore. A second change will be in the time of leaving this city for train No. 42 for Norfolk, which will leave at 3:15 instead of 3:30. This change is made in order that this train will arrive in Norfolk 20 minutes earlier, in time for certain boat and rail connections there.

DENIALS AT LORIMER PROBE

Druggist Declares He Did Not Say Hines Remarked He Had "Put Lorimer Over"—Witnesses Before Committee.

Washington, June 27.—Contradictions in testimony concerning pecuniary assistance, Edward Hines, the Chicago lumber millionaire, may have rendered in the election of Senator Lorimer marked today's session of the Senate Investigating Committee.

The most significant of these was the direct denial by Shelly B. Jones, a druggist in Marquette, Mich., that he had ever said Mr. Hines had remarked in his presence that he had "put Lorimer over" as United States Senator and that he had collected a fund of $100,000 to do it.

In so testifying, the witness contradicted affidavits of E. D. Mosher, deputy United States marshal at Marquette; Frank J. Russell, editor of the Mining Journal of Marquette, and Robert C. Lowe, a Chicago newspaper reporter, before the committee appointed by the Illinois Senate to investigate the Lorimer election. His statement also contradicted the testimony given by Moraris B. Coan, an investigator for the committee, at that hearing.

According to Mr. Jones' statement to the committee today, the conversation in which Mr. Hines figured occurred in Marquette in 1907, or about two years before the Senator's election. He said Mr. Hines remarked that he was a friend of Mr. Lorimer and something was said about the latter's election.

"I suppose it cost a barrel of money," remarked one of the men with Mr. Hines, but whose name the witness could not recall.

"Yes, sir," the witness said Mr. Hines responded. "All those elections cost a lot of money."

"To what election were they referring?" inquired Senator Kenyon.

"I suppose to Mr. Lorimer's election to the House."

Senator Kern asked if he had ever heard Senator Lorimer's name before the conversation. The witness said he had not, and could not have told whether he was a Senator or a Congressman.

"Don't you think it rather peculiar that you should have remembered an unknown man's name casually mentioned in conversation for four years?" inquired the Indiana Senator. The witness said he did not.

William O'Brien, a lumberman of Duluth, Minn., and vice president of the Virginia & Rainey Lake Company, of which Mr. Hines is president, and of which W. H. Cook, another witness of the day was a director, said they were in Mr. Cook's room at the Grand Pacific Hotel in Chicago about the time of Senator Lorimer's election and that Mr. Hines held a telephone conversation from that room.

Mr. Cook repeated the testimony he gave to the Helm Committee concerning that, varying it, however, by declaring that when the telephone operator rang up, and asked if Mr. Hines was there she said, "Here is Governor Deneen." Mr. Hines was quoted as saying Lorimer must be elected and that he would be down on the next train prepared to furnish all the money necessary.

Mr. O'Brien testified that he was expecting a telephone call and heard Mr. Cook say when he answered the telephone:

"Mr. Hines, the governor wants to speak to you."

"Did you hear the telephone conversation?" Attorney J. J. Healy for the committee asked the witness.

"No, I am a little hard of hearing, and it was none of my business."

The witness denied he had ever claimed Mr. Hines was talking to ex-Governor Yates.

Three detectives, who are said to have been employed to shadow Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester Company, were "ditched" today in a novel way by Mr. Funk. Ditching is the technical phrase for being thrown off the trail. Mr. Funk had the detectives subpoenaed as witnesses before the Senate committee investigating the Lorimer case and left the witness stand unshadowed for the first time in weeks, it is claimed.

THE NEW FRENCH CABINET.

Definitely Constituted Last Night—Signs the Decrees.

Paris, June 27.—The new French cabinet was definitely constituted tonight, and Joseph Caillaux, the premier who succeeds M. Monis, presented his colleagues to President Fallieres, who signed the nomination decrees. The cabinet is composed as follows:

M. Caillaux, premier and minister of the interior; Jean Cruppi, justice; Justin G. DeSelves, foreign affairs; L. L. Klootz, finance; Adolphe Messimy, war; Theophile Del Casse, marine; Jules Steeg, public instruction; M. Auguneaur, public works; M. Couyba, commerce; Jules Pams, agriculture; M. Lebrun, colonies; Rene Renoult, labor.

Under secretaries: Interior, M. Talvy; finance, M. Besnard; fine arts, M. Dujardin-Beaumetz; posts, M. Chaumet.

The members of the cabinet are about equally divided for and against proportional representation, which is taken to indicate that the new government's policy will be to find a compromise acceptable to all parties.

New York, June 27.—Two New Jersey cities declined today to adopt the commission form of government. A special election was held in each case. Hoboken defeated the plan by a vote of 4,922 to 2,969, and in New Brunswick 2,520 votes were cast against the proposition and 1,245 for it.

KILLED HIS WIFE AND SHOT HIMSELF

SEPARATED TWO WEEKS AGO

Infuriated Husband Frist Struck His Wife and When She Rushed from the Room Fired at Her—Leaves Eight Children.

Yesterday evening shortly after seven o'clock, a horrible tragedy was enacted at 147 North Fourth street when L. M. Sandlin, an ex-grocer of this city, but who has recently been conducting a small dairy, killed his wife and endeavored to take his own life. Sandlin and his wife separated about two weeks ago and had been living apart since that time. Yesterday evening he went to the home of his wife ostensibly to see his children, but after committing the crime made the statement to several that he had done just what he intended and only regretted that he was not able to kill himself. The shooting occurred when many people were sitting out on their porches and caused considerable excitement at Fourth and Red Cross. Sandlin is at the James Walker memorial Hospital but his condition is not regarded as at all dangerous.

Sandlin first went to 417 North Fourth street about 6:45 and wanted to see his wife but she would not come out where he was. Two of his children talked to him for some minutes and he left without seeing his wife. In about thirty minutes he returned and went into the dining room where he found Mrs. Sandlin. They talked for some minutes and she told him to leave the house; that they had separated and if he wished to see the children she would send them to him. This remark is said to have angered the man and he struck his wife with his first. She ran from him and went into the next room, a door connecting the two rooms. Sandlin followed her and just as she stepped into the front hall he began firing. Mrs. Sandlin fell across the narrow hall with her head doubled under her body. The front door was open and she fell immediately across it. Her husband stepped over her prostrate form and when he got onto the porch placed the pistol to the right side of his head and fired but the bullet only pierced the outer bone of the skull and lodged. He did not fall but sat down in a chair upon the porch. Captain Tom Morse, who lives next door ran out into his yard and Sandlin asked him to help them. He was told that he would have to throw the pistol away and the same was dropped upon the edge of the porch and later picked up by Captain Morse. Mrs. Sandlin was dead when the first person reached the house. Officer Sease was on his way to the police station to go on duty and was near the house when the shooting occurred. He at once went in and placed Sandlin under arrest and a few minutes later the patrol wagon was called for and he was carried to the police station. From there he was carried to the James Walker Memorial Hospital and is being closely guarded, officer Jesse Brown being on guard last night.

The bullet was removed from Sandlin's head last night and it was stated at the hospital that the wound was not regarded as a dangerous one. Although the bullet had gone just beyond the outer bone of the skull considerable difficulty was experienced in removing it. It is said that under favorable conditions Sandlin will have to remain at the hospital at least ten days or two weeks.

When Sandlin reached the hosiptal it is said that he did not appear to realize just what he had done for he asked that his wife be sent for to come and see him.

Yesterday's tragedy is said to have brought to a termination a difficulty that has existed between Sandlin and his wife for several years but has grown worse recently. It is said that about three weeks ago while the Sandlins were residing on North Fourth street between Grace and Walnut, he beat his wife and this brought about a separation, Mrs. Sandlin moving to 417 North Fourth street where she was conducting a boarding house and he occupied a room on South Front street, near the city market. Since the separation Sandlin is quoted as making the statement to several people that he expected to kill his wife and also his three children.

Mrs. Sandlin had been married twice, her first husband being Robert Sandlin, of Onslow county, his home being near Verona .He was a first cousin of L. M. Sandlin. Prior to her marriage Mrs. Sandlin was Miss Dora Shepard, of Onslow county. She was about fifty years of age and her husband is about the same age. Mrs. Sandlin is survived by the following children by her first marriage: Cradie Sandlin, clerk in a railroad office in Savannah; Joseph Sandlin, lineman in Augusta, Ga.; Julius Sandlin, a plumber, of this city; Mrs. Ada Roberts, of Wilmington; Miss Robbie Sandlin, operator for the Bell Tele-

CORNELL WINS A GREAT RACE

Takes First Place In Exciting Inter-Collegiate Race on Hudson—Columbia in Fight to the Finish — Features.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 27.—Varsity eight oared shells.

Four miles: Cornell, first, time 20 minutes, 10 4-5 seconds; Columbia, second, 20 minutes, 16 4-5 seconds; Pennsylvania, third, 20 minutes, 38 seconds; Wisconsin, fourth, 20 minutes, 34 seconds; Syracuse, fifth, 21 minutes, 3 2-5 seconds.

While two men lay practically helpless in the Columbia shell, Cornell 'Varsity eight pulled out a victory today in one of the greatest four-mile races ever seen at Poughkeepsie. It was Cornell's race by a scant length and a half with only six seconds to spare. Her time was 20 minutes, 10 4-5 seconds; Columbia's, 20:16 4-5 seconds. Pennsylvania was third in the 'varsity; Wisconsin fourth, and Syracuse a helpless fifth.

The Columbia freshmen eight carried off honors in the younger division, winning by two lengths from Cornell. Syracuse was third and Pennsylvania, but half a length behind. The Wisconsin freshmen were a badly outclassed fifth.

The official time was:

Columbia, 10:13 1-5; Cornell, 10:20 2-5; Syracuse, 10:23 1-5; Pennsylvania, 10:24 4-5; Wisconsin, 10:38.

Syracuse fought in the 'Varsity fours, but Courtney's men defeated them by half a length, with Columbia two lengths behind and the Pennsylvania four 20 lengths in the rear in the wash. No official time was taken.

Coach Rice's bronze squad from New York were easily the heroes of the day. Many had picked his 'Varsity to win and when the blue and white freshmen swung 'down under the bridge to victory over the sturdy Cornell eight, the Columbia cohorts cheered madly and there was a rush of Columbia money to back the 'Varsity's stamina and brawn. It was Columbia's first victory in sixteen years, their 'Varsity crew having won in 1895, the year the Poughkeepsie course was established.

Under a hazy sky with a wisp of Southern breeze stirring flag and bunting, the 'Varsity crews shot away from the mark at 5:51 P. M. for the gruelling heart-sapping four-mile grind. Columbia was quick to take the lead, for the first quarter mile they held it then the powerful rhythmic stroke of Cornell sent the red and white shell ahead until at the half mile Cornell led by half a length.

It was clear now that the struggle was between Cornell and Columbia. Pennsylvania held third place a length behind and Syracuse nipped her sides. Wisconsin lagged in fifth place and thus they held almost throughout the first mile. The mile post passed, Cornell and Columbia were so even that picking the leader became guess work.

It was nip and tuck between Cornell and Columbia for the next half mile. Pennsylvania meanwhile, dropped ten lengths behind with Wisconsin at her side and Syracuse a straggling also ran."

Wisconsin fought valiantly for third place and Cornell and Columbia seesawed for the lead with every ounce of their strength.

At the two-mile mark Columbia came into the lead, slowly at first but with a strong clear stroke. It looked at this point as if Columbia was the strongest crew and had forced a lead after two miles from a weakening Cornell eight.

Columbia held the lead by nearly a length as they passed under the bridge—the three mile mark—but clear of the structure Courtney strategy came into play. Sheltered from the wind by the gay crafton the east of the course near the finish Cornell started a spurt which not only began to eat up Columbia's slight lead but so taxed her eight that Sage at bow, reeled in his seat and Downing, stroke wobbled pitifully.

Both crews were stroking 35, but Columbia's weakness was apparent. She had rowed herself out and at the last quarter Cornell began her heart-breaking dash to victory. On she swept, steady, sure, precise.

In the last 250 yards Columbia wavered, then relinquished the lead she had so bravely held and another victorious Cornell 'Varsity crew crossed the finish line.

Fifteen lengths back Pennsylvania nosed out a close third place from Wisconsin and Syracuse struggled in a badly vanquished fifth.

Charles E. Courtney, the Cornell coach, said tonight:

"It was a gerat race—one of the best, I think, that I ever saw. Of course, I am pleased with our boys. Columbia rowed magnificently. They were game to the last stroke."

A. C. L. Team Will Play Nine From Warsaw on Local Grounds.

Thursday at the local ball park the Wilmington fans will have the opportunity of witnessing one of the most interesting games probably that will be played here this season. The strong A. C. L. team will have as their opponents the fast team from Warsaw. It is understood that this nine is composed mostly of college players, and that they put up an excellent specimen of the national pastime. An excursion from Warsaw will bring many ardent rooters from that town and they will endeavor to cheer their team on to victory. Lee, Witherington and Sloan, three of the best men on the University team last season, will be with the Warsaw lads Thursday, and with material of this kind opposing them the A. C. L. boys will have to go some to get away with the laurels.

Irving Corbett will probably be the mound man for the locals Thursday and he will be ably assisted by Starratt behind the bat.

It is expected that Thursday's game will draw one of the best crowds of the season.

TWO LOSE MINDS AT SAME TIME.

Insane Parents Caught Tying Children to Railroad Track.

Petersburg, Va., June 27.—Robert H. Goode and his wife, Mary, were arrested this morning while they were making preparations to tie their four children to the tracks of the Seaboard Air Line Railroad. The husband and wife had in some unaccountable manner become insane at the same time.

Goode recently sold a piece of property for several hundred dollars and when arrested Mrs. Goode had in her hand $105 in currency and a certificate of deposit for $700 issued by a Petersburg bank.

The youngest of the children their mad parents were about to sacrifice is 7 months old and the oldest 11 years of age.

Little is known of the action of the couple when they suddenly lost their minds save that Goode threatened to burn their dwelling.

The family has resided for a number of years on a small tract of land on Cox road, Dinwiddie county, near the railroad crossing, a short distance from this city.

TO END CONGRESS ROW.

Members of Both Senate and House to Hold Conference.

Washington, June 27.—The first step toward the settlement of the differences between the Senate and the House on the joint resolution providing for th election of Senators by direct vote of the people, was taken today when the Senate decided to grant a conference and appointed Senators Clark, of Wyoming; Nelson, of Minnesota, and Bacon, of Georgia, and conferees to meet a similar number of members of the House yet to be appointed.

The fight in conference will be over the acceptance of the amendment by Senator Bristow and adopted in the Senate which retains to the Federal government the right to control the election of Senators.

It will be opposed by the House conferees and advocated by the Senators. With an agreement in conference unlikely it is probable that ultimately the entire question will have to be fought out either in the Senate or the House on a motion to concede the demands of the other body.

GODD TREASURY SHOWING.

Condition as to Surplus Will Be Best Since Year 1907.

Washington, June 27.—The United States Treasury will have surplus of approximately of $25,000,000 when the fiscal year of 1911 ends on Saturday. The fiscal year of 1910 closed with a surplus of $15,000,000. This year's showing will be the best since 1907 when the surplus seldom equalled—$111,000,000—was shown. Both 1908 and 1909 showed deficits of $20,000,000 and $58,000,000, respectively.

Treasury officials believe final figures will show the government during the year just closing has received more than it estimated and spent just a little less than it planned. Total receipts from all sources are expected to total approximately $687,000,000. They were estimated at $678,000,000. Total expenditures, not including the Panama Canal, will be about $660,000,000. The Treasury expected to spend $662,000,000.

CITIZENS TEAR UP RAILROAD

Lehigh Track Had Been Laid Without Permission of Town.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 27.—Officials of Kingston, near here, aided by a number of citizens, who volunteered, spent six hours, from midnight until 6 o'clock this morning, in tearing up a section of the railroad which the Lehigh Valley Railroad had laid through a portion of the town without permission.

This work was done two weeks ago, and the railroad officials, thinking the town officials might attempt to destroy the work, for some time kept a number of men on guard. Hearing no complaints, however, the guards were withdrawn.

A force of officers is to remain on guard night and day to prevent any attempt to replace the road.

DEATH OF SETTLE DOCKERY.

One of the State's Prominent Young Men Victim of Typhoid.

Rockingham, N. C., June 27.—Gloom spread throughout Rockingham this afternoon when the death of Alfred Settle Dockery occurred after a lingering illness of four weeks with that dread malady, typhoid fever.

For at least two weeks Mr. Dockery has hovered between life and death, and a few days ago there were hopes of his recovery, but the patient finally succumbed to the wasting illness that gradually sapped away his life.

The deceased was the son of Col. Henry C. Dockery, editor of the Rockingham Post, and former United States marshal for Eastern Carolina. He was a lawyer by profession and was a young man of brilliant parts and admirable traits of character. He served in the lower House of the General Assembly as a Democrat, and had the esteem and confidence of people generally, both at home and throughout North Carolina.

He came of distinguished families on both sides, his mother having been a daughter of the late Judge Thomas Settle, while his paternal grandfather was the late Gen. Alfred Dockery, one of the ablest men of the State. He was a nephew of the Hon. Oliver H. Dockery, who in two or more campaigns was the Republican nominee for Governor of the State.

He leaves numerous relatives and hundreds of friends who will sincerely mourn that he was cut off in the very prime of his manhood and usefulness. Of his immediate family he is survived by a wife and one child. The funeral will take place here this afternoon.

OIL TRUST'S NEW PLANS READY.

Rockefeller In Person Will Attend To Reorganization.

New York, June 26.—Reorganization of the Standard Oil Company, following its dissolution by order of the Supreme Court, is already being planned.

The programme has advanced so far that the presence of John D. Rockefeller, head of the biggest trust in the world, and is necessary, and as a result he has forsaken his country home in Cleveland, and will be at his office, 26 Broadway, tomorrow.

There is great interest in the "street" in the plans of the big oil monopoly, but it is stated at the office that none of the details will be given out until after the dissolution is accomplished.

Inasmuch as Mr. Rockefeller is connected with 26 Broadway by both 'phone and telegraph wires when in Cleveland, financiers who know the oil king well say that he would only come here to participate in conferences that, from their nature, must be carefully guarded from the public. Consequently Wall street believes the future of the Standard Oil will have been settled before Rockefeller goes back to Cleveland.

Trust Taxes Workingman's Shoes

Leather Trust Cuts Quality—Four Profits Force High Price

If there is any man in this country who ought to get good, honest shoes at an honest price it is the workingman.

Yet what happens when he buys the average shoe for himself or his family?

Instead of a shoe that protects his feet properly for the work he has to do—he gets a poor, weak thing that breaks down, cracks and leaks, loses its fit and comfort.

Adulterated Leather in Trust-Made Work-Shoes

The shoe goes back on him because the leather is weak—tanned by a cheap, hasty "process" by the Leather Trust—"weighted" with adulterants to swell the profits of the Trust.

For those low-grade shoes he pays an outrageously high price—because the Leather Trust fixes the price of the leather to suit itself—and because the shoes carry four needless profits—

Profits to the Hide Trust, the Leather Trust, the Leather Jobber and the Shoe Jobber.

The Only Work-Shoes Independent of the Leather Trust

Why doesn't the shoe manufacturer buy good leather?

Man alive, he can't! The Trust controls the tanning industry of America. The ordinary manufacturer has got to take Trust-tanned leather or shut his factory down.

There is only one shoe factory in this country that is independent of the Leather Trust. That concern is Endicott, Johnson & Co., and they make the most dependable, sturdy work-shoes in the United States.

Shoes for the farmer, for the miner, for the bricklayer, for the teamster—for all heavy work and wet work outdoors and indoors.

They get good, old-fashioned leather because they tan it themselves in their own tanneries. They are the only shoemakers in the world who tan every pound of leather they put into their shoes.

Wonderful Endicott-Johnson Leather

Endicott-Johnson Work-Shoes are made of leather tanned and finished expressly for work-shoe purposes—

Chrome-tanned upper leather, heavy, tough and strong, but pliable and soft—so that the shoe will wear a long time, be easy to the feet and give them ample protection.

"Kromelk" soles (chrome tanned), the most durable sole leather ever produced—proof against weather and heat, and all but proof against wear.

Remember this "Kromelk" sole leather. It is the first and only perfect chrome-tanned sole leather in the world. Nobody but Endicott, Johnson & Co. can produce it—though the Leather Trust has tried.

Work-Shoes Honest All Through

Endicott-Johnson Work-Shoes are solid leather shoes—no "filler" or shoddy or pasteboard inside. Just good, honest Endicott-Johnson leather through and through.

They are handsome shoes—good lines and good style, because they are designed by the same men who design the Endicott-Johnson dress shoes that sell for twice the money.

And they are finished just as carefully, too, inside and out. Endicott-Johnson shoemakers do not know how to make a poor shoe.

Now you would naturally suppose that shoes made out of this extra-grade leather, with such style and finish, would cost you more than the ordinary Trust-made shoes.

As a matter of fact Endicott-Johnson shoes come to you cheaper than any shoe of the same general type you ever wore.

How Price Is Kept Down

Endicott, Johnson & Co. make good leather in their own tanneries at rock-bottom cost, remember.

Endicott-Johnson shoes pay no profits to Trusts or Middlemen. They carry no exorbitant retail profits. Endicott, Johnson & Co. sell direct to your local shoe dealer who is willing to make his money by a fair margin on many sales—rather than a big profit on a smaller volume of business.

Endicott-Johnson Work-Shoes are made in several grades, selling at $2.00 to $3.50 a pair. You can have your choice of numerous shapes and styles, and a full range of sizes.

Other Endicott-Johnson Shoes

You can get other Endicott-Johnson lines—shoes for men and women, for boys and girls. The popular dress and business shoe is the ENDWELL (Goodyear Welt)—selling at $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00.

Go to the Endicott-Johnson dealer in this town, and look over his stock. Remember the name of the makers—

ENDICOTT-JOHNSON

More than half the shoe retailers in the United States sell Endicott-Johnson Work Shoes. Ask your dealer for them. If he doesn't handle them, write Endicott, Johnson & Co., Endicott, N. Y., for style book and names of dealers.

ASHEILLE CARPENTER SHOT

Fired Upon While on A Street Car—Woman Caused the Trouble.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., June 27.—W. H. Barron, a carpenter of this city, was shot through the ankle and the fore finger last night about 9 o'clock while seated in a street car which was running from Pack Square to Riverside. It is alleged that the shooting was done by John Arlington, of Madison county, who has not yet been captured. Arlington is the husband of Maud Arlington with whom Barron was riding at the time of the shooting. It is said that the Arlingtons had separated. It appears that Barron, not knowing that Mrs. Arlington was a married woman took her to the park and that as they were returning, Arlington appeared. He had some words with his wife and then went to the front of the car, spoke to the motorman and returning, leaned over his wife and shot twice at Barron, he then jumped from the car and escaped.

Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State, is to deliver the address for the Sons of the Revolution at Guilford Battle Ground, July Fourth for the presentation to the Battle Ground authorities of a reproduction of the only Revolutionary battle flag that is known to exist in this State. The Battle ground celebration is to be characterized also by a memorial in honor of Major J. M. Morehead, who devoted so much attention to the establishment of the Guilford Battle Ground as a government memorial to this pivotal Revolutionary conflict.

Three pardons and one commutation were announced today by Governor Kitchin for prisoners who are serving terms on the roads in various counties. J. D. Moore, serving nine months for false pretense, in Cleveland county, gets a pardon on recommendation of both the trial judge and the resident judge. He obtained the sum of 67 cents by false pretense in the sale of a patent medicine, being guilty of similar offenses.

Thomas Stone, who attempted to shoot a woman and then to take his own life, and was serving eighteen months on the roads in Burke county, is pardoned on condition that he pay a fine of $100 and the costs and give a $500 bond for good behavior. There was much talk, the Governor says, of the prisoner being insane when the offense was committed.

The other pardon is Brutis Wicker, Harnett county, serving 12 months on the roads for assault with deadly weapon, and who refused to escape with all the others of his convict squad some time ago when they broke out of the stockade, Wicker having reported the scape promptly to the guards.

The commutation is for Thomas Stone, Franklin county, who has served five months of an eight months sentence for larceny and is to be released at the end of six months. He took money from the cash drawer in an office he was cleaning up, admitted the crime and restored the money.

In compliance with the provisions of an act of the recent Legislature, the State Department of Agriculture has just awarded the contract for the erection of a $30,000 animal husbandry building at the A. M. College, this making the second building that the department has erected for the college out of its earnings from fertilizer tax. The other was the agricultural building that cost about $85,000. The trustees of the college have also just awarded the contract for a new dining hall for the college that will accommodate 800 and will be modern in all its appointments. The present dining hall which is a semi-basement, will be converted into an armory for the cadets.

The McKimmon Dry Goods Co., of this city, is chartered with $50,000 capital by Chas, McKimmon, E. C. Duncan and others, to open a mammoth new store here in the early Fall. A special building is being erected for the company on Fayetteville street, near Hargett, by W. W. Vass. The paid in capital is $15,100.

The trustees of the North Carolina Methodist Orphanage here will within the next few weks award the contract for a new $10,000 boy's building. The annual meeting of the trustees has just been held at which the remarkable showing was made that there was not a single case of serious case of sickness during the past 12 months, the enrollment being upwards of 150.

Wins Fight for Life.

It was a long and bloody battle for life that was waged by James B. Mershon, of Newark, N. J., of which he writes: "I had lost much blood from lung hemorrhages, and was very weak and run-down. For eight months I was unable to work. Death seemed close on my heels, when I began, three weeks ago, to use Dr. King's New Discovery. But it has helped me greatly. It is doing all that you claim." For weak, sore lungs, obstinate coughs, stubborn colds, hoarseness, la grippe, asthma, hayfever or any throat or lung trouble it is supreme. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

MAKING PLANS AT OXFORD.

For Laying Off Fair Grounds and Location of the Buildings.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Oxford, N. C., June 27.—Mr. W. N. Hutt, State Horticulturist, was in Oxford today in conference with the directors of the County Agricultural Association. Mr. Hutt was asked to come over to advise the directors about the laying off of the fair grounds and location of the buildings. The plans are to purchase 20 acres adjoining the fair grounds to be used as a park. While it is not expected that the town will be able at once to improve this place and develop it into a city park, still it is thought a good plan to get the land and make improvements from year to year as means could be procured. The ladies of the Oxford Improvement Society are interested in this movement and are expected to be of great help in carrying out the plans.

Mr. Hutt while here talked very interestingly about the fruit prospects for North Carolina. He sees no reason why this State could not become a great fruit raising section. He is especially enthusiastic about pecan culture and thinks Granville county ought to produce a fine quality of the nut. Mr. A. H. Powell is planning to plant five acres of pecans this Fall on a farm he owns near here.

In this connection it is interesting to note an experiment that J. B. Mayes is making near Stem, in the southern part of the county. He owns a farm which includes the top of what is known as Bowling Mountain, really nothing more than a good sized hill. Of this land about 100 acres is above the frost line, which is so distinctly marked that at certain times during the Fall and Winter it can be clearly seen by the effect of the frost on the grass and foliage. Mr. Mayes thinks that this section will stand 15 or 20 degrees more of cold without killing fruit than the lower part of the mountain. He has prepared 12 acres for peaches this Fall and if it is successful he expects to put the whole 100 acres in peaches and apples. This land a few years ago could probably have been bought for less than $2 an acre. If this experiment is successful, it may some day be worth $200 an acre. This is merely one of the many instances in the county of wrinkles being smoothed out and waste places made productive.

Crop conditions in most of the county are favorable. Probably 80 per cent. of a tobacco crop is on the hill and corn is above the average for this time of year.

is made of solid, extra heavy, first quality, wool felt, thoroughly saturated with Texaco Bitumen, over 99 per cent pure, and afterward finished with an extra heavy coating of the same material.

TEXACO BITUMEN—over 99 per cent pure — possesses great fire-resisting properties, is not oxidized by the action of the elements, is impervious to the action of acids, fumes and gases, is not injured by the extremes of heat and cold, and remains adhesive and pliable.

The weakest point of ready roofing is at the lap, due to the disintegration and hardening of the cement used, but Texaco Roofing Cement, made of bitumen over 99 per cent pure, insures a permanent waterproof lap.

The principal merits of TEXACO ROOFING are:
ECONOMY of first cost and application.
SIMPLICITY and ease of application.
PERFECTION of weather and water-resisting qualities.
MAXIMUM of strength and durability.
FIRE-RESISTING.
PLIABILITY and immunity from injury by extremes of temperature; and, last but not least,

A PERMANENT LAP, by use of Texaco Roofing Cement, which gives security, strength and waterproofing at the weakest point of a roof.

If you can't get all you want, take what you can get and remain on the job for more.

The Summer girl and the Summer swain are in full bloom at Wilmington's seaside resorts.

About the only question for Locke Craig to consider is whether it would pay him to sacrifice his law business to get to be Governor.

The world knows only a few and the life of many men is one thing right after another in their efforts to get to be one of the few.

Tomorrow is the last day for the June bride. So far as that is concerned, however, a bride is sweet at all times and all times are hers.

Ex-Governor Yates, of Illinois, expresses belief that Senator Lorimer was honestly elected. This shows that even some governors will believe anything.

If Champ Clark should happen to be an innocent bystander at the next National Democratic convention, nobody will cry if he should happen to get hit in accordance with the almost invaliable rule.

Senator Lorimer is a product of Republican-Democratic "fusion." Since fusion never was a friend of ours, we do not hesitate to say we do not expect any better of fusion than its last analysis, which is confusion.

The Richmond Virginian tells us that "a blind man was admitted to the bar in Georgia the other day." Nevertheless, he will be able to see the strong points in a speech made by some other lawyer who differes with his view of the law.

Jim Jeffries claimed that Jack Johnson knocked him out because somebody had doped him for the occasion. Now comes John L. Sullivan saying that it was John Barleycorn that helped Jack Johnson to put the boilermaker to the bad. The combination was bad, to be sure.

The United States Navy has already demonstrated the usefulness of flying machines in naval warfare. However, during the naval maneuvers to begin at Hampton Roads, August 1st, there will be an elaborate test of the adaptability and efficiency of aeroplanes in actual battles at sea.

A writer on economy says "a man should not buy anything when he has something that will answer the same purpose." We shall observe, therefore, that when a man has a wife, three grown daughters, a mother-in-law and a parrot, what earthly use could he have for a phonograph?

The latest reports say "Canadian sentiment is hot for reciprocity." The hotter it gets up there the colder it may get at Washington. However, we should say that the defeat of the Root amendment in the Senate on Monday, is a pretty good indication that the Senate is going to pass the reciprocity bill.

The Greensboro News observes: "Not one in 20 of the papers that favor Canadian reciprocity has attempted to furnish an intelligent, comprehensive reason for the faith that it professes." Probably they do not favor it to the extent of bothering with reasons. We favor the policy embodied in reciprocity of the right kind, but we have to be excused for watching some of the methods of reciprocity. If you give us protection, reciprocity or a reduced tariff, distribute the benefits or burdens of any or all, so North Carolina will be in the swim if it should turn out that somebody shall have rocked the boat.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THAT?

The Star's Associated Press dispatches from Washington yesterday carried the announcement that the scheme of the Guggenheim-Cunningham-Morgan cambination to gobble up Alaskan coal fields worth untold millions has been frustrated, for the present at least, by President Taft's new Secretary of the Interior, Mr. Fisher.

Mr. Fisher is the man who succeeded Secretary Ballinger to whom President Taft stuck through thick and thin, even to the day of his logical and inevitable resignation because the fight against him was so warm that, in spite of stupendous bluff and unmitigated gameness, he had to walk the plank after holding on for months awaiting the opportunity either determined to permit the coal robbery or to save his face by retiring when he was not apparently under fire. Even in accepting his resignation, President Taft sent Ballinger off with his vehement commendation and denunciation of Pinchot, Glavis and Shaw to whom the Nation owes a debt of gratitude for their manhood, fidelity and the sacrifice they made for the public interests.

Now comes Secretary Fisher, after a calm, deliberate and patriotic investigation, ruling that the Cunningham claims involving 5,250 acres of which are among the world's most valuable coal-fields, the property of the American people. Secretary Fisher headed off the coal fields gobble by fixing his approval to the decision handed down by the Hon. Fred Dennett, Commissioner of the Land Office, restoring to the public domain 33 Cunningham claims, which, if granted, would have secured the Republican administration's approval of the most stupendous and unblushing outrage ever perpetrated on the American people.

The finding of Commissioner Dennett holds that the claims should be cancelled "on the ground of fraud," declaring that each and every one of the 33 claims were improperly allowed because of fatal defects, "apparent on their face." He finds that the government, after a long and careful investigation "conclusively established the charges brought against the claimants, and that there is no doubt that an agreement existed among them in violation of law."

In plain words, if that is true and Secretary Fisher approves it as true, the millionaire freebooters, were engaged in collusion and fraud to deliberately filch from the American public a fabulously valuable portion of their domain. These were the charges made by Chief Forester Pinchot, Louis R. Glavis, and Attorney Shaw of the Interior Department, and the Fisher-Dennett finding confirms them in every respect. Nevertheless, the men who thus saved the Nation from a monstrous rape, lost their official heads. They bided their time for vindication from being Ballinger's "snakes", as they were stigmatized when he boasted that he would "kill a few more snakes." They have reaped vindication, and yet it has not been a fortnight since the Washington Post, pro-Taft, slurred them as enemies of the administration when it was announced that Pinchot and Glavis would support President Taft for the re-nomination. They deserve diamond belts at the hands of Taft, instead of his resentment, and the biggest and broadest thing Taft could do would be to recognize the fidelity of these men to public interests by restoring them to the public service. He thus has the opportunity of his life to finally repudiate Ballingerism, which in its final accomplishment, would have forever damned the Taft administration as long as the history of the Alaska transaction would have endured. If President Taft was beguiled into believing the public interests ever were safe in the hands of Ballinger, surely the scales will now fall from his eyes. He needed saving from some of his friends like Ballinger, and Pinchot and Glavis and Shaw did it for him. Shall that great service go without its reward? Shall it be ultimately demonstrated that "Republics are ungrateful"?

What Mr. Dan Guggenheim, head of the Guggenheim family, said upon sailing from New York for Europe on Monday night, might have been expected of him. He was disgusted at business conditions in the United States, such precise conditions as have been brought about by the greed and rapacity of just such men as Guggenheim and men with more money than they have conscience or principle. It is true "Big Business" is hurt by it, but a time of reckoning had to come and it is none too early for saving the American Republic, partially at least, from the domination of the predatory and rapacious freebooters and buccaneers who pick out the very Nation for their game and victim. No country, "held up" as has this one been by syndicated millions and by the Republican party with its tariff scheme for laying tribute on the masses for the enrichment of special interests, could hope to "exceed from 60 to 70 per cent. of our actual business" as Mr. Guggenheim bewails.

The head of the Guggenheim gougers talks like a sheep would not be justified in raising a kick while it is undergoing the process of being fleeced of the last bit of wool on its back. He is right in one particular. "We have had no pests, no calamities or earthquakes—but we are not happy." He mistakes the temper of the American people. "We are not happy," not because "no pests, no calamities, such as fires and earthquakes," have occurred, but because the powers of destruction menacing a free people are more to be dreaded than "pests and calamities such as fires and earthquakes."

The fate of Rome was impending over the American Republic but a revolution at the ballot box in the last election may have stayed that most eternal of all calamities. The people saw the drift and their revulsion was a Democratic victory in November, 1910. That victory called a halt, and made it impossible for such men as Ballinger to remain in office and defy the people. He knew when it was time to relinquish his hold and take to the woods. Had the Republican party triumphed who doubts that he would have been right in Washington today, and that Dennett's finding would have been reversed had he dared to have done such a righteous thing. Aye, his official head would have been chopped off by the same guillotine that dropped into the basket the heads of such fearless men and patriots as Pinchot, Glavis and Shaw.

INDUSTRIES THE LIFE OF TRADE.

The business men of Wilmington do not yet seem to have waked up to the vital importance of industries as a factor in the more rapid and substantial growth of Wilmington. If they did they would not simply be anxious for the establishment of manufacturing industries in this city, but would be enthusiastic and determined in their efforts to make Wilmington an industrial city. We would not let slip the least opportunity to secure any kind of factory if we were thoroughly aroused to the fact that industries are vitally important at this stage of Wilmington's development.

We wish we could use a maul as big as a locomotive boiler to drive that fact home. We wish we could gather the thunders of the four corners of the earth with which to convince every business man of this city that the future progress of Wilmington depends upon manufacturing as a means of furnishing life blood to the trade of the city by giving employment to its people and by increasing its earning population. If we earnestly believe this we would get busy and seize every opportunity to establish meritorious and promising industries, small or great. We would not wait for the slow moving of outside capital to come here and do for us what we should be up and doing for ourselves. Let's get all the industries we can induce to locate here, but let's build all we can in the meantime.

In a recent editorial we briefly as possible pointed out how manufacturing pays the stockholders their dividend and the working people their wages, and that in the distribution of the benefits it pays the merchants, the property owners, the real estate men, the home builders, the bankers, the farmers, the producers of raw materials, etc. We tried to show how the benefits of manufacturing ramify in a hundred different directions, but in the limited space we could not begin to tell all the different directions into which the money from manufacturing industries goes. We didn't even mention the great benefit to transportation, and even that would be a difficult task to accomplish.

However, just to show what manufacturing does for a city and its distributing railways, behold the several fertilizer factories of Wilmington! They employ fifteen hundred hands and pay out thousands of dollars in wages. They pay out $1,000,000 in freights on raw materials coming and finished products going. They have increased the commerce of Wilmington by bringing to the port more steamers with fertilizer material from three continents. They cause the railroads of Wilmington to tremendously increase their carrying capacity. During the busy season the shipment of commercial fertilizers into several States caused the railroads to run 20 extra trains a day! One fertilizer factory alone produced 80,000 tons of finished product which would require 4,000 cars for its transportation. Four thousand loaded cars, divided into trains of 20 cars each would mean that this one factory furnished business for about two hundred trains. That is enough to illustrate what manufacturing does for Wilmington and what still other industries would do. Diversified industries of all kinds is what we are after, and as the adaptabilities for manufacturing in Wilmington are pre-eminent and boldly apparent, we ought not to wait for knock-down arguments that only Jupiter could hurl with his fiery bolts from the maddened clouds of the tempest.

No city can depend alone on commerce. Wilmington's commerce this year is from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000 greater than last year in exports and imports, and that is a potential reason why we should have the supremest confidence in every manner of enterprise in Wilmington. If the mercantile and manufacturing interests would but keep up with the tremendous growth of Wilmington's ocean, river and rail traffic, how marvelous and substantial would be the growth of the city on the Cape Fear!

However, commerce may be here today and gone tomorrow. Where are the "ships of Tarshish," and where is Tarshish, anyhow? Right here in the port of Wilmington we have seen the great naval stores industry decline and the commerce that it created disappear from the seas. Years ago there was hardly room in the harbor for the white-winged ocean carriers and we have seen the time when the sailor population of Wilmington was estimated at from 3,000 to 5,000 during the shipping season. The full-riggers, the barques, the barquentines, the brigs, the brigantines and the schooners no longer lie at our wharves with their stately masts and variety of rigging silhouetted against the sky-line. The once great lumber industry which shared with naval stores in making Wilmington's harbor picturesque with the shipping massed at her docks, has declined to a considerable extent, and thus we see commerce takes wings and flies away. The resources of commerce pass and with them go the ships. However, that is only one class of commerce that has diminished, for King Cotton and the fertilizer industry bring the big steamers that make our commerce greater than ever. If Wilmington can but hold its cotton, fertilizer and other maritime trade, all well and good, but we must make more commerce and create more business and trade by anchoring a great diversity of industries.

No class of business men should be so thoroughly interested in industries as the retail merchants of the city. Of course, every branch of business gets the quickening impulsases of manufacturing, but with many factories the stores especially would be crowded with the working people who would swarm down town to spend the money they earn. Retailers are more benefitted by industries than any other commercial interest and it would pay them to make free gifts to secure industries if they will not take the stock that would certainly build them. We mean meritorious, substantial, sane manufacturing enterprises. Let all classes of Wilmington's mercantile, banking and business interests cinch all the industries they can and build all they can't cinch.

When a man begins to ride a hobby he becomes a pessimist if everybody laughs and refuses to ride the same way he is going. All hobby-riders refuse to be guided by the "rule of reason."

CURRENT COMMENT.

The experts at last have agreed that the wood blocks are all right, notwithstanding the opinions of the lay citizens and lumbermen. Who's right? Chester (Pa.) Republican.

Says the Wilmington Star: "Probably Greensboro was an auditorium town as long as she cared to be. Doubtless, North Carolina's gate men didn't have time to be bothering with an auditorium that was needed except some two or three times a year." That President Taft will consider in good faith any and all tariff bills on their merits is no longer to be doubted. Can the progressive Republican Senators give the same assurance that they will consider reciprocity with Canada or even the House tariff bills in good faith? By their course they have cast greater doubt on their own sincerity than anybody else possibly could.—New York World.

The gospel of good and wide paving cannot be talked too much. A city which has miles of paved streets, even where the building is not progressing, appeals to homeseekers and development companies and means prompt construction along the paved streets. One redounds to the other, and brings progress and interdependent profit, something Jacksonville people are beginning to realize to the fullest.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

Democratic newspapers which have been advocating enlarged Federal supervision of political expenditures in connection with the election of members of Congress find themselves put in an embarrassing position through having at the same time to applaud the efforts of the Democrats in the House and Senate to transfer control of Senatorial elections entirely to the States. When the campaign expenses publicity bill was under consideration in the House the Southern Democrats, who were then covertly planning to vest the States with exclusive jurisdiction over elections for Senators, were thrown into a panic by the introduction of an amendment extending the provisions of the bill to cover Senatorial primaries. Many Northern and Western Democrats did not understand the political motive for non-interference with Senatorial elections and voted for the amendment, which was carried and had to be rejected later after Speaker Clark and Mr. Underwood had done sufficient missionary work among the uniformed and erring brethren.—New York Tribune.

ABLE BUSINESS MEN NAMED

Well Known Merchants at Head of Trade Extension Association. Purpose of Organization. Members.

The Wilmington Trade Extension Association, of which the reading public has heard considerably recently, is now practically established and it is expected that in a short time the plan of refunding railroad fares to buyers within a certain radius will be put in operation. The plan is expected to act as a great stimulus to business and it is believed that the sales of every mercantile establishment will be greatly increased thereby.

Messrs. Geo. S. Boylan, W. B. Cooper, Adolph Einstein, William A. French, Jr., Joseph N. Jacobi, A. O. Schuster and Ben Solomon were yesterday afternoon formally appointed as the executive committee of the newly organized Trade Extension Association to serve for the first year. It had been arranged originally for the bank to appoint the committee, but as the entire business community practically is in the association the bank preferred the nominating committee to suggest the gentlemen it preferred. A large number of names were considered among the great quantity of good material available and those selected were finally decided upon for various reasons deemed to be wise and for the best interests of the association. The seven gentlemen were then named as the committee and formally notified of their selection. All have accepted the office and will enter upon the discharge of their duties at once.

Some misunderstanding has arisen among persons not familiar with the purposes of the new association, and to make the plan clear, the expert employed to supervise the organization work stated last night the exact purposes of similar associations. "This association is a dual organization embracing a jobbing division, and a retail division. The two sections are united in one organization simply to reduce the cost of maintenance, but have no other connection in any way. The sole purpose of the jobbing section is to develop new business within the Wilmington trade territory and to protect this market from the encroachments of other wholesale markets. The sole and only purpose of the retail section is to combat the mail order houses and to keep North Carolina money in North Carolina. It might be supposed that the retail section is looking for the business now handled by country merchants. Such an opinion is not correct. Instead of doing so, these associations ask and receive the hearty co-operation of country merchants in point of fact. As an illustration, a woman wishing to buy a handsome suit cannot get it at a country store because such merchants do not and cannot carry such stock. If they did she would naturally buy there. As she must either send her money to a catalogue house or spend it in Wilmington, the purpose of this association's retail section is to induce her to buy here in preference to sending her money out of the State. Any other statement as to the purposes, and the only purposes, is an error based on misinformation, or a misconception of trade conditions as they actually are," he said in conclusion.

The membership list will be closed up by this evening so that the various forms can go to the printer. It is said that seven or eight signatures will be added to the list today. Those now in the association are: Ahrens Bros., Atlantic Paint & Varnish Works, Bardin Motor Co., Samuel Bear Sr., & Sons, Behrens-Zeigler Furniture Co., Robert R. Bellamy, F. A. Bissinger, The Bon Marche, Boney & Harper Milling Co., Boylan & Hancock, W. J. Bradshaw & Co., J. O. Brock, A. D. Brown Dry Goods Co., D. L. T. REGULAR COUNCIL MEETING

Two Important Health Ordinances Adopted at Weekly Session Yesterday—Other Matters Considered.

In regular weekly session yesterday afternoon the City Council passed two important health ordinances, discussed at some length the question of granting a license for the sale of malt in the city, mention of which is made in another column, heard a representative of a concern which manufactures wood paving blocks, and considered a number of other matters, more or less important, adjourning after being in session nearly three three hours, to meet this morning for the purpose of considering the malt question principally.

The two health ordinances adopted are, in a way, drastic, and their adoption goes to show that the Council is ready to back Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, City Superintendent of Health, in his campaign for a healthier city. Both ordinances will vitally affect many residents of the city, and it was only when Dr. Nesbitt declared that he believed the issues involved next in importance to the surface closet question in regard to sanitation that the Council unanimously adopted them. The first provides that on or after July 15, it shall be unlawful for any person or firm, etc., to keep a horse stable in the corporate limits of the city unless the same shall be provided with a water tight floor, properly drained, which shall be cleaned daily. Each stable must also be provided with a fly proof bin of specified material in which the manure must be placed daily, the bin to be emptied and contents to be removed from the city limits twice each month. A fine of $5 is provided for each violation of the law.

The second is still more drastic, perhaps, and deals with the persons within the city limits who keep one or more cows. The two ordinances as adopted are as follows:

Horse Stable Ordinance.

"Be it ordained by the Council of the city of Wilmington, North Carolina.

"Section 1. That on and after the 15th day of July, 1911, it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to have, keep, or maintain any horse stable in the corporate limits of the city except the same shall be provided with a water tight wood, brick, or cement floor, properly drained, which shall be cleaned daily. Each stable shall be provided with a fly proof, covered bin, tongue and grooved flooring or other solid material, to be used for both bin and cover, in which the manure and litter shall be placed daily. Said bin to be emptied and contents removed from city limits twice each month.

"Section 2. Any person, firm or corporation violating section 1 of this ordinance shall be fined $5 for each and every offense."

Cow Stable Ordinance.

"Be it ordained by the Council of the city of Wilmington, North Carolina.

"Section 1. That it shall be unlawful to keep or maintain any cow stable in the city of Wilmington within a radius of fifty (50) feet of any dwelling house therein.

"Section 2. That it shall be unlawful to keep more than one cow on any lot or premises within the following prescribed limits of the city of Wilmington, to-wit: within that portion bounded on the west by Cape Fear river; on the south by the south side of Castle street; on the east by the east side of Tenth street, and on the north by the right of way of the A. C. L. Railway.

"Section 3. Every person, firm or corporation keeping a cow within the limits described in Section two hereof, shall have therefor a stable wherein such cow shall be kept. Such stable shall have a cement floor and gutter, and be equipped with a brick pit, cement lined, or a concrete pit, tightly covered and fly proof into which droppings must be placed daily.

"Section 4. That all stables herein provided for shall be kept clean, and shall be disinfected and attended to in such manner and under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed from time to time by ordinance under direction of the superintendent of health. This expense of disinfection and inspection to be borne by the city.

"Section 5. Any person, firm or corporation violating any provision of this ordinance shall be fined $5 for each and every offense.

"Section 6. That this ordinance shall be in force and effect from and after July 25th, 1911.

Mr. Wm. A. Young, representing the United States Wood Preserving Company, appeared before the Council to plead the merits of wood blocks as a paving material. He stated that this form of paving had been adopted by all the metropolitan cities of the East and had proven universally satisfactory. He also said that it had the endorsement of the United States government and that the government was using it on much of its property. While the cost of the wood blocks might be a little higher in the first place than some of the other materials, Mr. Young argued that it would prove cheaper in the long run. Mr. Young stated that he merely wished to ask the Council to investigate the material before making their decision as to what will be used on the Wilmington streets, and he urged them to make inquiry as to the merits of the wood blocks of any city in which they are in use. Mayor Smith and several members of the Council asked him a number of questions as to the probable cost of the wood blocks. Mr. Young replied that he was not in position to answer these questions until he had had an opportunity to figure on freight rates and on the cost of local labor, which would be needed to lay the concrete foundation upon which the pavement is built.

A communication from Mr. A. B. Skelding, general manager of the Tidewater Power Company, asking that the Council grant his company the privilege of putting in a cross-over at their tracks on North 17th street, between Market and Princess, was read. City Attorney McClammy stated that the new charter provides that ordinances can be drawn to cover such matters. He was directed to draw up such an ordinance and the matter will come up as unfinished business at the next meeting.

A communication was received from citizens residing near the proposed location of the city stables on Fourth and Princess streets, protesting against the stable being located there. The letter stated that the flies, rats and other vermin attracted by a large stable would make their lives a burden. The matter was referred to Councilman B. C. Moore, who will inquire into it more fully.

Mr. F. M. Canady, who runs a boarding house on Water street, appeared before the Council to protest against the noise made by the dogs in the city pound, just back of the market house. Mr. Canady stated that he is losing boarders because of the canine serenades in the night hours and asked the Council to take steps to remedy the state of affairs. His complaint was referred to Councilman B. C. Moore.

The question of granting the Tidewater Power Company the privilege of putting down a side track on Orange, from Water to Front streets, which was the unfinished business from the last meeting, came up, but City Attorney McClammy stated that Mr. Skelding had failed to furnish him the company's charter and that on this account he was unable to report on the matter. It was carried over to the next meeting.

Several other matters of minor importance were considered, and the Council then adjourned. The next meeting will be at 10 o'clock this morning, chiefly to consider the question of issuing licenses to sell malt.

NEW STATIONS ON BEACH LINE.

Almost Completed Now and Will Soon be Ready for Service.

The concrete stations that are being built along the trolley line to beach by the Tidewater Power Company, are now nearly completed. The structures are ready for the roofs and as soon as these have been placed the stations will be ready for service.

The roofs are of Spanish green tile, highly glazed, and are being furnished by the Ludowici-Celandon Company, of Chicago, a concern who make a specialty of this kind of work. The tiling has already arrived, and is now being distributed along the line at the different stations. An expert from the factory will arrive in a day or two to superintend the work of putting on the roofing.

With the roofs on the stations will present a very attractive appearance. The roofs will extend three feet beyond the walls and will thus afford ample protection from the wind and rain. While these stations are open at the sides, they are so constructed that no matter from which direction the wind is blowing they will give ample protection even in the stormiest weather. There are seven of these stations at different points along the line.

THE MALT QUESTION RAISED

Mr. Woodus Kellum Addresses City Council on the Issue—Meeting This Morning to Consider The Matter.

Mr. Woodus Kellum, Esq., appeared before the City Council at their weekly meeting yesterday afternoon and in a short talk desired to know whether the Council intended taxing the sale of malt under the revenue act. This question has created considerable comment recently, because it is the generally accepted belief that upon the expiration of the near-beer license on June 30, the dealers will continue in business, selling malt instead of near-beer.

Mr. Kellum declared that he appeared neither in the interest of the prohibitionists or the anti-prohibitionists, but merely as a citizen of Wilmington. He argued that malt has been recognized in the revenue act of 1909 as a beverage and that the real meaning of the word, according to the Attorney General, is an extract, notwithstanding the fact that dictionaries give as its definition a grain that has been treated by a certain process. He said it was generally recognized as a beverage and cited the decision of the Supreme Court of Kansas, a State that had the prohibition law ever since it was admitted to the Union, in a case to determine the meaning of the word malt. The decision classed malt along with ginger ale, hop tea, American hop tea and other mild beverages.

Mr. Kellum declared that malt has been legalized and is a commercial article. If licensed, he argued, it could be regulated by taxation. The city is helpless to prohibit its sale without license, but it can regulate it with a license. He declared that if given an opportunity to adopt a lighter beverage of this sort all self-respecting citizens would do so, and not patronize the blind tigers that handle whiskey, which cannot possibly be eradicated. He declared that it is better to have some regulation than to allow them to do as some will do and that you can rope a cow easier in a pen than you can when she is in the open.

A lively discussion was precipitated in the Council when Mr. Kellum had finished his remarks. Councilman B. C. Moore declared that he was opposed to granting any sort of a license, unless it was so high that the dealers would be forced to take the matter to the courts and let them construe the meaning of the word. Councilman P. Q. Moore advocated a light license, not heavy enough to give the dealers an excuse for selling stronger beverages. He argued that the stuff would be sold anyway and that the city might as well derive some revenue from it and be in position to regulate its sale. Councilman M. G. Tiencken was of the opinion that the issue would have to be decided by the courts anyway inside of the next 30 days. City Attorney McClammy stated that the city had power to grant the license or not, just as they saw fit, but if they did not the dealers could go ahead and sell malt anyway. He cited several opinions of the Supreme Court on the question involved. The point was made that if the license was allowed the city would not be granting any more privilege than the dealers would enjoy without it, and in addition the license would give the authorities an opportunity to regulate the business.

Councilman B. C. Moore argued against this and declared that to grant license would only be to stand by and see the law violated as it has been formerly. He argued that if license is granted an ordinance be passed that will give the chief of police the power to enter the places where the beverage is sold and make any kind of search he wished, every day if he deemed it necessary.

As there was not time enough to devote to the other important matters and the malt question also, it was finally decided to meet this morning at 10 o'clock to consider the license question, and the matter was dropped.

HIGHWOOD PARK BAND.

Feature of the Races—Made Up of Experienced Musicians.

Mr. Frank W. Peiffer, the popular manager of the Airdome, has organized a band of selected musicians that will be known as the "Highwood Park Band." Few cities the size of Wilmington can boast of a musical organization such as the Highwood Park Band, since each man is an experienced musician of no mean ability.

The first public appearance of the band, newly assembled, was last Saturday at Highwood Park, when the rendition of several selections in a masterly manner won the praise and applause of the spectators. The band is a decided hit at the matinee races. On the 7th and 8th of July, two big days at the race track, the local band will be augmented by out-of-town musicians, making the total instrumentation 32 men.

Discovered Body of Negro.

The body of Andrew Keith, the 17-year-old colored boy who was drowned several days ago while in swimming near the Navassa factory, was found floating a short distance from where the fellow sank, Monday evening by two negroes, but they were not able to get the body to the city at that time but managed to tow it to Point Peter and it remained there until yesterday when it was towed to the water's edge near Hilton and the coroner notified. There was no evidence of foul play and an inquest was deemed unnecessary.

Automobile Licence Tax.

Sheriff S. P. Cowan wishes to call the attention of New Hanover county automobile owners to the fact that the time for renewing the State license expires Friday, June 30th. All owners of automobiles who have not paid this tax by that time are liable to indictment, and Sheriff Cowan declares he will be forced to take this action against the delinquents. He states that very few Wilmingtonians have renewed their license so far, and wishes to urge upon them the necessity of doing so before it is too late.

Condition of Dr. E. J. Wood.

The condition of Dr. Edward Jenner Wood, who has been desperately ill for several weeks, was reported as critical yesterday, but information from his bedside last night was to the effect that it was thought he was slightly better, although still a very ill man.

Rev. C. D. Willingham, who is supplying the pulpit at the First Baptist Church during the absence from the city of the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. H. Foster, will conduct prayer meeting at the church this evening at 8 o'clock.

BLADENBORO SOCIABLE FEATURE OF SEASON.

Bladenboro, N. C., June 27.—The greatest social affair ever seen in Bladenboro was a lawn party given Friday evening, June 23rd, from 8:30 until 11 o'clock, in honor of the Misses Maia Whitlock, of Wilmington, and Misses Jeanette McQueen and Maud Morrison, of Morven, the guests of Misses Mamie and Bessie Bridger. The beautiful lawn was lighted by large Japanese lanterns that shed a mellow glow on all the beauty around. Rustic seats and rugs were placed on the lawn and the decorations were elaborate, crepe paper and ferns being used. The porch was inviting with its soft lights and the piano was the centre of attraction there. At 8:30 o'clock the guests began to arrive and were received by Mr. and Mrs. Bridger, charmingly assisted by Miss Alice Singletary. Punch was served on the corner of the lawn where tables were very tastefully arranged. Peanut butter sandwiches were handed to the guests, then the "Ad Contest" was engaged in, the prize being won by Miss Loula Ferguson and Mr. Gay Seilly.

Miss Annie Neal Clark, graduate in voice and piano, Misses Mamie Bridgers and Laura Dell Clark gave some delightful music. Ice cream was served the guests on the lawn, then the tete-a-taes began and 11:30 came all too soon for the happy young people. They all voted it "the best ever."

The guests were Misses Maia Whitlock, of Wilmington; Misses Jeanette McQueen and Maude Morrison, Morven; Laura Dell, Rosie Lee, Annie Neal and Katie Clark, Clarkton; Mamie, Bessie and Jattie Bridger, Flora Fink, Alice Singletary, Annie White, Loula Ferguson, Katie Freeman, Mattie Williamson, Pauline and Queen Hilburn, and Messrs. H. C. Jr., R. L., Jr., J. L., C. O. and Levi Bridger, John Lenon, Cecil Shaw, Gay Kelly, Woodie Hilburn, Henry White, Spurgeon Fink, all of Bladenboro; R. K. Craven, Abbottsburg, and Clarence and Oscar Clark, of Clarkton.

FINE FISHING AT BEACH.

Spartanburg Sportsmen Hold Record—Some Figures Hard to Believe.

All previous records for blue fishing at Wrightsville Beach were lowered on Monday and Tuesday of this week, one party alone having caught 560 of this particular fish. To the average dry-lander it might appear out of reason to talk of fishing without bait, but such is the case in trolling for blue fish. The ordinary hook with a small white bone attached to the end of the line is the tackle used. It is reported, however, that the party who made the enormous haul on Monday and Tuesday can catch fish on dry land. These gentlemen hail mostly from Spartanburg, South Carolina, and consist of W. C. Carrington, S. T. Reid, C. H. Roper and J. W. Brown. The three former have added much in the way of advertising at Wrightsville Beach as a popular fishing resort, and always spend their vacation at the beach. Mr. Brown has heretofore talked Morehead City as being the only fishing place on the continent, but Monday and Tuesday convinced him that there are others.

Monday the party used Captain Wells' boat, the "Hornet," in charge of the ever handy Oscar Saulter, while Tuesday's fishing was from the "Bridgeport." The latter was handled by Captain Dolph Styron, assisted by E. G. Gillespie. These gentlemen have handsome equipment and give excellent service.

FESTIVITIES NEARING END.

Coronation Scenes Will Soon be Passed—The Events.

London, June 27.—The principal coronation festivities are nearing an end, but subsidiary functions and social entertainments are still sufficiently numerous and important to keep London in a constant state of effervescence.

While in one section of the city an army of workmen is busy removing decorations and stands, in another section great numbers are employed erecting new arches and stringing bunting to do honor to their majesties on the next royal progress Thursday. The same precautions in the shape of gates are being taken as on the route of the royal procession, although this affair will be of minor importance.

London is still more or lesa in a holiday mood and the streets are filled with idlers and visitors. Very noticeable is the rush of Americans, not only from the United States, by every incoming steamer, but also from the continent, demonstrating that they purposely kept away during the coronation to circumvent extortionate demands.

At the Bijou.

The biggest Pathe film in years, "The Sublime Pardon," the latest and most expensive Vitagraph picture, "Barriers Burned Away," (founded on the famed novel by that name), and one of the most wonderful and vivid educational motion picture creations, "Transportation in Siam," will be the topliners at the Bijou today. Could a more glittering, a more costly and a more superb in every way trio of stars be obtained? It is considered the brightset and is certainly the most expensive galaxy of photo-play masterpieces ever presnted in Wilmington, and the epual of any ever presented in the very largest theatres North. And yet these are only the stars. There will be other big features, including one of the most sparkling and snappy smile-pictures ever offered. "Two Overcoats," in which an accidental exchange of overcoats takes place and the trouble that ensues when a chap's girl finds certain epistles in his over-coat pocket. It is a big scream of wholesome delight. But besides this fun picture, something big and merry in the musical line is going to be served up in most attractive manner. Every amusement-lover should see today's whopping big Bijou bill. The Pathe film of "The Sublime Pardon," is intensely dramatic and is a picture that every wife and mother should certainly see. The Vitagraph, "Barriers Burned Away," tells a powerful story, while the scenes of life in Siam will teach a fine lesson. Of course, the Bijou is the "cool spot." It is the place of pure air and strong breezes.

IS DIFFICULT TO CONVICT.

Alleged Blind Tiger Placed on Trial Third Time—Other Cases.

Yesterday was a busy day in the Recorder's court and once more was the case of Thomas Mask Jones, the negro charged with violating the prohibition law, entered into but there is every indication of a mistrial as the jury remained out all night and the prevailing opinion is that there is not much chance of an agreement being reached. This is the third time the negro has been tried, and in the two trials heretofore it was necessary to withdraw a juror and order a mistrial.

Jones is charged with selling one half pint of gin to M. F. Sellers on or about the 25th of May. The case has been hotly contested on both sides, Messrs. Marsden Bellamy and George Peschau for the prosecution and Mr. L. Clayton Grant, for the defense. The peremptory challenges of the State were early exhausted and juror after juror was sworn as to cause and quite a number stood aside for one reason or another.

The jury in the case is composed of the following: Messrs. R. A. Brown, R. L. Jackson, R. H. Brady, F. A. Savage, Melvin Horne, E. R. Ellis, J. N. Sweeney, J. F. Seitter, C. P. B. Manler, J. B. Hand, A. A. Hergenrother and W. A. McGowan.

Other cases disposed of yesterday were:

William Wright, colored, abandonment, found guilty and judgment suspended upon payment of cost and by executing bond in the sum of $50 to guaranty payment of $8 per month to his wife.

Buck Alderman, colored, bound over to the next term of Superior Court upon charge of breaking into a builing used by Tom Smith, on Water street, and stealing therefrom a watch. In default of $500 bond he was committed to jail. It was found out after the trial that the negro had also gotten a typewriter and he will be tried upon this charge today.

Carrie Patterson, a dusky colored damsel, was given a term on the county farm of three months, her time expiring just about the time that cooler weather will arrive.

Josephine Everett, colored, will assist in the county farm for a period of thirty days for disorderly conduct.

Willie Smith, a negro boy about 14 or 15 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 30 days on the farm for throwing a piece of glass at Clara McBryde, a small child, and cutting an ugly gash on her leg.

L. T. Allen and William Bluefield, both white, escaped upon payment of small amounts for being drunk and down.

Mr. Joseph E. Thompson Ill.

Mr. Joseph E. Thompson, general manager of The Morning Star, is ill at Lumberton with fever, but his physician has not yet been able to decide whether he has malarial or typhoid fever. He went to Lumberton Sunday morning on a brief visit and was taken sick on the day of his arrival.

NEAR RIOT WITH MORMONS.

Congregationalists Want Church Sold to Sect Moved.

Lansing, Mich., June 26.—Red pepper was thrown about and shotgun was aggressively displayed today in a riot among members of the Mayflower Congregational Church and adherents of the Latter-Day Saints.

The former attempted to tear down an old church they had sold to the other congregation and the latter drove off the invaders after a portion of the front of the structure was torn away. When the police had restored order some of the Latter-Day Saints applied for a court injunction to prevent further attacks on the property.

The Congregationalists assert that the sale was made with the understanding that the building would be removed to another locality. The trouble began when it was reported that the new owners would keep the church in its present location, opposite the new Congregational church.

Memphis, Tenn., June 28.—None of the crew of the river packet, City of St. Joseph, is blamed in connection with the recent explosion aboard the boat and the consequent death of 18 negro deck hands and passengers, in the findings of Capt. H. C. Waltz, U. S. boiler inspector, who concluded his investigation today. The explosion followed the collapse of a boiler flue, Capt. Waltz explained, possibly because of a hidden defect in material or workmanship.

How the Benthall Peanut Picker Pays for Itself in a Season

If you grow peanuts you can't afford not to own a Benthall Peanut Picker. The machine will pay for itself the first season.

Yes, siree! with one, you and your boys can do the work of a hundred hands and do it better. You avoid losses from stealing. You get your crop off to market early—get highest prices. It makes peanut growing doubly profitable. That's what it does.

Our recleaning and bagging attachment makes it unnecessary to run peanuts over for seed a second time—makes them absolutely clean—free from tops, roots and pieces of vine.

The Benthall is a picker and not a "thresher." It picks both Spanish and Virginia peanuts as perfectly as human as fingers. It keeps the vines for hay!

Other machines that thresh them crack the nuts so that they will not keep—grind the vines to smithereens, so that they are unfit for feed. The Benthall is the picker of proven worth—tried out in the peanut fields of old Virginia.

The Benthall is almost wearproof and is sold under guarantee.

Write now for our FREE booklet "How the Benthall Pays for Itself."

COTTON SHOWED FIRMER TONE

Caused by Covering of Old Crop Shorts and Better Buying of New Crop Positions—From 16 to 30 Points Higher.

New York, June 27.—The cotton market showed a firmer tone on covering of old crop shorts and better buying of new crop positions which appeared to be inspired by the failure of weather reports to show further rain in the Western belt and rather less favorable crop advices. The market closed very steady from 16 to 30 points net higher, with old crop positions, relative strong.

The opening was steady, at an advance of @@10 points, in response to better cables than expected and in the first few minutes new crop positions sold from 17 to 18 points above the closing figures of yesterday on reports of dry weather in the western belt, the forecast for generally fair weather in Oklahoma and Texas, and a private crop report indicating that an area producing about 1,500,000 bales in Texas and Oklahoma is injuriously dry and liable to severe deterioration, should rains not fall within the next ten days.

There were also rumors that preliminary returns to the National Ginners' Association showed a slight deterioration in the condition of the crop during the past month, but around 13.24 for October offerings became heavier and the new crop months eased off slightly from the best. The old crop however continued very firm and during the afternoon July contracts sold up to 14.70, or 32 points net higher on covering, while August advanced 14.64 with spots evidently influenced by claims that near months have been depressed below a parity with foreign markets and that exports were likely from the local stock.

The strength of the old crop positions helped to sustain the new months during the afternoon, notwithstanding the rather more favorable weekly weather report and rumors of showers in the southwest, and closing prices were only a little off from the best.

Exporters were buying here in the late trading and there was a continued good trade demand for early new crop deliveries, although perhaps the bulk of the new crop buying came from covering of shorts. Receipts today, 1,689 bales, against 2,528 last week and 25,343 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 455, against 1,336 last year and at Houston, 132, against 181 last year. Spot closed quiet, 75 points higher; middling uplands, 14.90; do. gulf, 15.15; no sales.

Futures opened steady and closed very steady.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, June 27.—Disclosures of an unusually large short interest in July wheat gave a boist today to the market as a whole. LISTLESS IN STOCK MARKET

Few Issues Selected for Special Attention at Hands of Traders—Moved Within Narrow Limits — The Features.

New York, June 27.—Aside from a few issues which were selected for especial attention at the hands of traders, stocks moved listlessly within narrow limits today. There was a fair degree of activity at the opening and throughout the first hour, with pronounced strength in Union Pacific and U. S. Steel, but the movement was shortlived and during the remainder of the session prices fell away slowly. Reading, Union Pacific, the Erie issues and the local tractions all gained a point or more in the early part of the day, but most of the gains were cancelled. Erie, however, displayed exceptional strength.

The early movement in Union Pacific and U. S. Steel was attended by circumstantial reports of uncommon interest. Much of the buying of Union Pacific seemed to originate from brokers whose names are frequently associated with the operations of "insiders" in the Harriman properties. There were further reports of speculative contests in United States Steel. The bulk of the buying in this issue came from Boston and was said to be for the account of a prominent Western speculator who was credited with an extensive short interest in the stock. An important feature of the trading was the weakness in the Copper stocks, particularly American Smelting, which declined two points. The pessimistic statement of a representative of the Guggenheim interest in regard to business conditions and the cancellation of the Cunningham claims in Alaska were apparently used by bear traders to good advantage.

Uncertainty as to the outcome of the crops continued to be a deterrent factor, but the situation in this respect is undoubtedly better than was the case a fortnight back. The weekly weather reports told of beneficial rains in many districts, where conditions had become critical.

A number of the important railway systems submitted their returns for May, among which those of the Harriman lines attracted most attention because of the large decrease in gross and net earnings. Union Pacific's shrinkage in gross of $577,000 and Southern Pacific's decrease of $49,000 were greater than had been expected. A marked contrast was presented in the Rock Island report, showing a gain in net revenue of more than $200,000.

First returns of Alabama National Banks to the latest call of the comptroller of the currency shows a fairly large loan increase. This is the first Southern State to make returns.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $3,985,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales of stocks today were 427,100 shares.

MORMONS TESTIFY AT SUGAR PROBE

asked why financial aid from Havemeyer was necessary.

"The church had extended its candidate to borrow money," said Mr. Smith. "We gave notes to the banks as trustee in trust, and the church itself had a bonded indebtedness of more than $1,000,000."

Mr. Smith told of the opportunities the sugar business gave the people of Utah for earning money and testified that the Mormon tithe of 10 per cent. of the earnings, in prosperous years amounted to $1,250,000 and $1,500,000.

Mr. Smith said he never negotiated with Mr. Havemeyer personally in the consolidation, the negotiations being conducted by Thomas C. Cutlar, business manager of the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company.

"Before the American Sugar Refining Company acquired its holdings in the Utah-Idaho concern, it was a competitor, was it not?" inquired Mr. Sulzer.

"Not in Utah," said Mr. Smith. He added that he thought this consolidation was one of the greatest of blessings to the people of Utah and Idaho. The price of sugar to consumers, he said, remained "just about the same."

RUMORED SALE OF R. & C.

Said Seaboard Will Take Over Lumberton to Marion Road.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., June 27.—Although no official announcement has been made it is reported that the Seaboard will at an early day assume control of the Raleigh & Charleston Railroad, leading from this place to Marion, S. C. For the past month or two the matter has been discussed here, but as is generally the case in railroad matters, no one seemed to know anything definite. The Dillon, (S. C.) Herald seems to have been in position to get some information concerning the proposed sale and says:

"Rumors of the sale of the Raleigh & Charleston Railroad to the Seaboard have been floating around for some time. For sufficient reason we have said nothing about it, but it seems useless to keep the matter quiet longer since it seems to have become public property. From what we can hear the Coast Line and Seaboard were both bidding for the road. At one time possibly the Coast Line bid 40 per cent. of book value of stock, but the Seaboard appears to have won out. After a visit to Baltimore of those interested, the men at the shop were taken off their jobs, except one mechanic and carpenter. It is understood that the work will be done at Hamlet in the future. Officers were engaged in stock taking last week. Some time ago it was said at Andrews that the Seaboard had bought the Atlantic Coast Lumber Co's. road and would extend it to Charleston. Nobody can tell what a railroad is going to do, but it looks as though the road will be extended from here through Britton's Neck community with the old Atlantic Coast Lumber road and go on to Charleston, making, we understand, the shortest route between Washington, D. C., and Charleston, S. C., by about 60 miles. Possibly the Mullins road will be built to Conway as was rumored when the bill was in the Legislature, to allow Mullins to vote bonds. There is a large territory without railroad facilities between Conway and Sumter by way of Lake City, which would have a road."

A THRILLING ESCAPE.

Topples From Twentieth Floor and Is Saved by Fellow Workman.

Chicago, June 27.—One of the human flies whose agility and lack of nerves make skyscrapers possible, lost his balance today and toppled from the twentieth story of the new Heisen building.

Ordinarily the foregoing statement would complete the story, but not so in the case of Patrick Eustice, for there was a hero at hand in the person of John Murray, and Eustice probably will be at work again tomorrow.

Eustice toppled from a beam just as scores of other structural iron-workers and some of his companions did not even turn their heads to see the mangled form which their minds conjured up as lying on the pavement below.

Murray was working on the nineteenth floor and saw Eustice fall. He reached far out and grasped the falling man by his tough workingman's blouse. He was not able to hold the weight but he gave the descending body a swing inward and the latter landed on the eighteenth floor on a pair of cross beams. He was bruised but that was all. Murray looked down, and saw that all was well and resumed riveting.

IS DUE TO IGNORANCE.

Patronize Quacks and Freak Methods of Healing.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 27.—The propensity of the American public to patronize quacks and freak methods of healing is due to ignorance and the legitimate medical profession itself is to blame, according to an address made today at the opening of the 62nd session of the American Medical Association by the new president John B. Murphy, of Chicago. "It is my public instruction in medicine is one of the most important functions which the American Medical Association has to perform," Dr. Murphy said.

"There should be established in every city sub-committees for 'lay press publications,' so that when the laymen wishes authoritative information in any particular line he can write to the press report on what has been accomplished in any line.

"Up to date the patent medicine almanac, quack advertisements and 'leaves of healing' have been the principal instructors of the public."

GAMBIER TALKS OF WIFE.

Witness in Suit for Separation in New York.

New York, June 27.—Edward Russell Gambier, the banker, was a witness today in the suit for separation which his wife, Edith Russell Gambier, an Atlanta society girl and he told of their honeymoon abroad. On board ship, he said, there was bridge whist and dancing and that Mrs. Gambier danced a great deal. Asked if he ever embraced his wife on the trip the banker said: "Yes. I asked her once to put her arms around me. She did so, but it might have been a barrel."

Gambier stated that while on board ship he heard no word of affection from Mrs. Gambier, and added:

"Indeed, at no time during the marriage until I left her did I hear one word of endearment."

He stated that Mrs. Gambier's attitude was indifferent and said she received his caresses in a "cold and impassive way."

"Did you speak of Mrs. Gambier's attitude toward you?"

"Yes; I told her she was treating me wrongly and she replied that she had no affection for me. I asked her when I had lost her love, and she said I had never had it. I asked her why in God's name she had married me, but she made no reply."

The idea of a separation between himself and his wife first took definite form, Gambier said, on August 8, 1910. On August 10, he said, Mrs. Gambier entered his room early in the morning, and they discussed their differences. He asked her why she had married him, and she replied, he declared, that she did not love him.

"Well do you think that you are a particularly warm object?" asked Mrs. Gambier's lawyer.

"I have an affectionate and sympathetic disposition," Gambier replied.

TRIAL OF EVELYN SEE.

Founder of Absolute Life Cult Charged With Abduction.

Chicago, June 27.—It was said at the State Attorney's office today that a remarkable similarity has been discovered between the "Golden Bible" of the Mormon Church and certain passages of the "Book of Truth," which figures largely in the trial of Evelyn Arthur See, founder of the Absolute Life cult, for the abduction of Mildred Bridges, 17 years old.

"In the 'Golden Bible' which Joseph Smith said he had deciphered from plates of gold revealed to him, Smith frequently spoke of free women and men in the strain which seems to have been closely copied by See," said Prosecutor Burnham. "The men we have had making comparisons tell me that large portions of See's book were taken verbatim, or almost so, from the Mormon book."

Asked by Prosecutor Burnham if she was known as the Spirit of Motherhood Mona Rees, a devotee of See, on the stand today declined to answer.

"Could See typify the 'Spirit of Motherhood?'"

"I don't know; I suppose so."

That 'purifying meetings' at which See's converts would be purged of their sense of shame were held at See's flat was admitted by the witness.

"Isn't it a fact that in purifying the converts of their sense of shame, the subjects would be divested of their clothing?"

On advice of Attorney Newell, Miss Rees refused to answer.

Police Captain Danner on the stand today stated that Miss Rees at first denied any illegality in her relations with See, but later she confessed in the presence of himself and several newspaper men. Several reporters corroborated Danner.

INSANE MAN TO PAY $3,941.15

District of Columbia Profits Bequest to Asylum Inmate.

Washington, June 26.—Frank Healy, who was hopelessly insane at the Government Hospital here when his brother, James Healy, a druggist, died and left him an estate of $200, several months ago, will have to pay the District of Columbia $3,941.15 to cover the expense of his care at the hospital for more than 17 years before he came into his inheritance.

Justice Gould, in Equity Court No. 2, this afternoon sustained the argument of the District and ruled against Healy for the bill.

Healy himself is in such a weak mental state that he knows nothing of the money which was left him.

The court appointed a committee to manage the estate after the brother's will was probated. It will now have to hand the District a check for Healy's board, covering 931 weeks at $4.33 a week.

SENATORS NOT "GENTLEMEN."

John Sharp Williams Apologizes For Calling Them Such.

New York, June 26.—Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, publicly apologized to the members of the United States Senate for calling them gentlemen in a speech on the Canadian reciprocity bill. The apology provoked laughter from the usually staid and dignified members of the upper House and caused Mr. Williams to blush in embarrassment.

He was engaged in a colloquy with Senator Dixon, of Montana.

"Now, gentlemen," he began and he stammered, "I apologize to you Senators for calling you gentlemen, but I am more schooled in the ways of the other House than of the procedure here."

He got no farther. The chuckles of Senator Gallinger and the a ides on the Democratic side were too much for him.

NEEDS MONEY TO GET DIVORCE.

Isabelle Patterson Springer's Attorneys Appeal to Court.

Denver, Colo., June 27.—While Mrs. Isabelle Patterson Springer, principal witness in the Henwood murder trial here was under cross-examination yesterday, her attorneys were asking District Judge George Allen to grant her alimony pending the decision of the divorce case brought by John W. Springer.

According to an affidavit presented to Judge Allen yesterday, she will not have funds with which to contest the divorce action unless the court awards her money for litigation and personal expenses.

phone Company, in this city. Children of the second marriage are: Letha Sandlin, aged about 11, Hazel Sandlin, aged about 13, and Charlie Sandlin, aged about 14.

When Sandlin made the fatal visit to the house the two little girls were in the dining room with their mother and when the father began shooting ran out of the back door screaming. Just as Sandlin fired his wife screamed two or three times, "Oh Lord! Oh Lord!" and fell in the hall dead.

Shortly after the homicide, Dr. Bell, coroner of New Hanover county, was notified and went to the scen of the crime. He had the body of Mrs. Sandlin removed to the front room of the house and a sheet thrown over the body. Later the body was turned over to Undertaker Walter E. Yopp. Examination showed that three bullets had entered the back of the unfortunate woman's head. One entered just below the right ear, one on left side below the left ear and one near the median line and near the shoulder on the left side. Dr. Bell stated that any one of the bullets would have caused instant death. Mrs. Sandlin's neck was broken. After being examined the body was carried to Mr. Walter E. Yopp's undertaking establishment to be prepared for burial.

Mr. J. S. Sheperd, a first cousin of Mrs. Sandlin and who was a boarder at the house, witnessed the tragedy. He was on the front porch when Sandlin first entered the house but when he saw Sandlin strike his wife Mr. Sheperd stated that he started quickly to the dining room but Mrs. Sandlin ran into the parlor and from there to the hall. When Sandlin began firing he said he went out into the back porch as he did not know but he would turn the pistol on him.

Immediately after the shooting Sandlin said he did what he intended and that he had to do it. He asked that he be given the pistol in order that he might "finish it." He also made the remark that his head must be awfully hard for the bullet not to enter it.

A touching scene was enacted last night just before the arrival of the undertaker. The body was lying in the parlor covered with a sheet and the coroner and several people around the room when the fourteen-year-old son of the dead woman rushed in. The little fellow, since the separation of his parents, had been making his home with his father and had evidently been out some where in the city and had just heard of the death of his mother. He was out of breath and appeared to have run for some distance. He wandered around the room, looked down at body covered by the sheet, then into the hall where the floor was bespattered with blood, his eyes all the while having a wild, dazed look. Then realizng what had taken place the little fellow began to weep like his heart would break. A kind hearted lady who was at the house took the child out and he was carried to the home of a relative.

The coroner's inquest will be held this morning at 10 o'clock at the court house. A number of witnesses were notined to be present last night. The following jury was summoned:

Messrs. C. G. Parker, T. K. Curtis, W. L. Burkheimer, R. C. Banks, Geo. C. Johnson and G. S. Savage.

KEEP DEPARTMENTS GUESSING.

Not Given Out Who Will Occupy New State Building.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 27.—State build-

Raleigh, N. C., June 27.—The State building commission concluded this evening the conference with architects and State officers, whose departments are to be given place in the new building and directed the architects to have blue print details of the plans ready for bids to be advertised for within 90 days. This means that it will be four months before contracts for the building can be given out. The Commission also keeps to itself the allotment of quarters for the State departments, those given place in the new building being confidentially advised of that fact, and given an opportunity to indicate to the architects the features they desire in the special design of quarters. This is to save the commission trouble through protests, and complaints from some eager to get into the new building, but voted out by the commission. The Commissioners here for the meeting were Chairman Ashley Horne, Clayton; Secretary W. E. Springer, Wilmington; J. A. Long, Roxboro; J. Elwood Cox, High Point; absentees were W. L. Parsons, Rockingham, and A. S. Rascoe, Bertie county.

W. B. Barrow, of Raleigh, is awarded the contract for the erection of the dining room building at the A & M. College, and Carr & Co., who are the contractors for Raleigh's municipal building and auditorium, get the contract for the $30,000 animal industry building. The contracts for heating equipment for both go to Hunt Bros. & Co., Greensboro. The trustees here to make the awards were W. H. Ragan, High Point; R. H. Hicks, Rocky Mount; Walter E. Daniel, Weldon; M. B. Stickley, Concord.

WANT BAN TAKEN OFF JEWS.

Business Men of Tobotsk Say Governor's Action Is Harmful.

St. Petersburg, June 27.—The ministry of trade is negotiating with the ministry of the interior with a view to the temporary suspension of the order of the Governor of Tobotski, Siberia, prohibiting Jews attending the fair at Tyumen. If the ministry of the interior does not grant this concession the other ministry will take the case before the counsel of ministers.

Premier Stolypin holds the post of minister of the interior affairs and the present action was taken following a telegraphic appeal from the Board of Trade of Tyumen setting forth that the exclusion of Jews from the city was injurious to business.

The premier recognized that the order of the Governor of Tobotsk is in accordance with the letter of law but the law has never been applied rigorously.

FIRE AT LUMBERTON.

Home of Mr. R. D. Caldwell Injured—Events of A Day.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., June 27.—This afternoon about 5:30 o'clock the residence of Mr. R. D. Caldwell was discovered to be on fire. An alarm was promptly sent in and the firemen together with a large number of townspeople were on the scene. The flames were extinguished without the use of the fire apparatus, however, and it is supposed $100 will cover the damage The fire was confined to the pantry room where Mrs. Caldwell had been arranging some Japanese lanterns to be used at a lawn party which is being given tonight by Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell. It is thought that in the placing of candles in the lanterns, Mrs. Caldwell dropped a burning match which she overlooked, and in that way the contents of the room became ignited after she had closed the door and left the room.

In response to a request from Laurinburg, Chief Redfern last night arrested a colored woman who is wanted in that town.

Travis Boss, a white man, was fined $2.50 and costs in the Mayor's Court for being drunk and disorderly.

Editor Sharpe, of the Robesonian, left this morning to attend the meeting of the North Carolina Press Association.

It is reported that the telegraph wires have been making effort today to locate a song book which disappeared from one of the churches a few weeks ago when a traveling "Tenor-Robusto" was taking an active part in rendering sacred songs.

Fredericksburg, Va., June 27. — While workmen were repairing an old fire place in a house recently rented by Patrick Maher and family, they discoveerd in the ceiling a ponderous iron box containing $400 in gold coin and $500 in currency. The house is so old that not even the oldest resident can venture to guess as to the original owner of the money.
